

Reverse Logistics Research

I have been asked for assistance by a graduate student doing her masters thesis on Reverse Logistics. She is preparing a survey and would also like to interview a few companies to study the cost analysis used to decide between managing Reverse Logistics in-house vs. outsourcing.

If you are interested in helping further research on our emerging industry, please let me know. Even if you only have a few minutes to speak on the phone with her.
Your assistance will help us all! Just drop me an email
