

Feedback Request: Reverse Logistics IT Standards???

Contributed by Paul Rupnow
Friday, 28 January 2005

Do you think

Standards could help your Company improve your Returns operations? What industry standards are you using? What areas do standards exist? What will be the benefits?

We need your feedback, comments and suggestions. I am on a panel next week at the Reverse Logistics Conference and Expo in Las Vegas.

The topic is Reverse Logistics IT Standardization. Please let me know how or where you think Standards could help your Company improve your Returns operations. Post your comment below or just email me

Editors Note: This article was posted a while ago, but this is still a very important topic, please continue to let us know where you use standards and where you think we need more standardization.